

A message from the Government of Alberta...

02 June 2017

Today Minister Ganley launched the Alberta government's formal public engagement on the legalization of cannabis in Alberta.

As the Government of Alberta prepares to make a number of decisions about this important issue -- many of them unprecedented -- we are asking all Albertans to share their views so that legalization in our province reflects your values.

From now until July 31, 2017, you can provide your feedback to us by:

- Completing an online survey at www.alberta.ca/cannabis
- Providing written submissions to the Alberta Cannabis Secretariat at acs@gov.ab.ca. We will post all submissions we receive online for everyone to read and consider.

You can also find additional information about cannabis and legalization, as well as a Community Toolkit that can help guide a community conversation on cannabis legalization on our website at www.alberta.ca/cannabis.

The issue of cannabis legalization in Canada is complex, and it has the potential to impact everyone. We want to ensure Albertans have the opportunity to share their input and perspectives so government can develop the programs and policies that make sense for Albertans.

Thank you in advance for participating in these engagement opportunities, and please encourage your colleagues, family members, friends and neighbours to participate as well.

We look forward to hearing your views on this important matter.
